

Enhanced Content

Diverse quality-controlled resources that put the information you need at your fingertips.

Examples are:

- Prognosis tools that help you assess the viability of proposed legislation
- Committee hearing & floor notifications for bills you are tracking
- Sponsor & committee profiles with biographies and contact information
- Exclusive Congressional reporting and federal BILLCAST
- Complete regulatory tracking resources that are deciphered and decoded by analysts
- State Net Code Links that give you pinpoint accurate links from bill text to the relevant section of existing code

How you benefit: You access key information on bills and regulations that empowers you to respond to developments more accurately and decisively.

Put it to work: If you oppose a bill that has been sent to committee, for example, use enhanced content to:

- Determine the bill's likelihood of passage by clicking to Committee Analysis, Fiscal Notes and other prognosis tools
- Run a mail merge to send an opposition letter to all committee members
- Link that opposition letter to your Private Tracking File with myAttachments
- Click to forward a full report and action memo to your lobbyist in that state

Learn more: Prognosis Tools, Regulatory Reporting

Sophisticated Management Tools

Power tools designed to constantly monitor developments and enable you to store, analyze, segment, track and report on relevant legislation and regulations.

Why it matters: Managing the sheer volume of data related to your issues is an enormous task. All aspects of our service are specifically designed to overcome that challenge.

Why it's different: Other services rely on one type of searching, and are limited in their ability to sort, sift, and convey information in a meaningful and manageable format.

How you benefit: You dramatically reduce the time and effort involved in managing your government affairs information.

Put it to work: Based on every stakeholder's objectives, we combine diagnostic tools and goal-based scenarios to fine-tune how information is identified, sorted and delivered.

Learn more: Smart Search, Private Tracking File, Case Study: Bill Volume, Case Study: Personalized Tracking System

5
The number of major errors we catch on official state legislative sites each week. We alert the states whenever we find an error to help them correct their official information.

40%
The amount of bill text on Massachusetts's website that is cutoff or omitted.

3
The number of times a bill is quality checked before posting to our system.

LEARN MORE: www.statenet.com 800.726.4566 info@statenet.com

Customer Service

Multiple people within State Net are connected to your goals and committed to making you look good.

Why it matters: Managing a legislative or regulatory information program is extremely challenging. When seconds count, our team service approach ensures that you never get stuck in a voicemail loop or waiting for a call back.

Why it's our focus: Our only business is supporting government affairs and compliance professionals. Helping you to accomplish your goals is critical to our own success as a company.

How you benefit: You gain a knowledgeable extension of your own staff—an entire team of professionals who support your program goals. When you call State Net, our phone is answered by a team member who can answer most common questions or immediately connect you with someone that can. More than 100 staff experts, averaging 13 years at State Net, are always at your service.

Put it to work: Regular meetings with your client-service team provide feedback about what's working and where your program could be fine-tuned. We also help with special reports, presentation, publications or other projects.

Learn more: Our People

Data Integrity

Our services are backed by a 40-year commitment to providing fast and accurate information. Data quality is consistently verified through multiple quality assurance processes. Teams familiar with the legislative and regulatory process in each state identify and proactively address errors and omissions unique to that state.

Why it matters: Our process minimizes your risk of relying on inaccurate information. Our team also configures bill text and other information into a uniform format so that it's quick and easy for you to post into memos or documents.

Why it's different: Other services simply scrape and paste raw content and links to state-issued bill text. While this approach is cheap and efficient—it's also unreliable and costly to end users.

How you benefit: You can rely on State Net's reporting and confidently share comprehensive and quality controlled information with your stakeholders.

Learn more: Our Process

Customized Services

Highly-targeted, individually designed reporting built to your exact specifications.

Why it's our focus: Sorting through inaccurate and unfocused data is a waste of your time and resources. Our customized services provide focused reporting and strategic delivery methods that are designed to meet the needs of every person in your organization.

How you benefit: Custom-built solutions maximize your efficiency and resources. Especially when you are:

- Working with a diverse group of clients, members or internal constituents that have different demands and work styles
- Managing a huge list of issues
- Coping with shrinking staff resources

Put it to work: Your Client Service Manager will design an optimum service and delivery system specifically based on your program goals and the information needs of your internal and external users.

Learn more: iTrac

LEARN MORE: www.statenet.com 800.726.4566 info@statenet.com

7
The number of states where bill summaries are ALWAYS missing or incomplete.

2
States where we have to scan text, page-by-page, by hand because it is not available on the state site.

100%
The amount of translation that states such as New Mexico require to make their legislative process understandable.

5
Number of states where committee hearing info isn't readily or consistently available via the state's website.

